Policy Purpose:

ISP recognises its ethical and statutory (Czech law and the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child) responsibility to safeguard and promote the welfare of all its children. The well-being and safety of the child is of paramount importance.

The ISP will therefore:

- Ensure an environment where children feel secure, are encouraged to talk, and are listened to.
- Ensure children know that there are adults in the school whom they can approach if they are worried.
- Ensure we practise safe recruitment with personal reference checks pertaining to the suitability of staff to work with children.
- Ensure that all ISP staff receive ongoing training in child protection practices.
- Include learning opportunities for children to develop skills they need to recognise, and stay safe from abuse.

8. TYPES & SIGNS OF ABUSE

8.1 Abuse

A form of maltreatment of a child. Somebody may abuse or neglect a child by inflicting harm, or by failing to act to prevent harm. They may be abused by staff or another child or children.

8.2 Physical abuse

A form of abuse which may involve hitting, shaking, throwing, poisoning, burning or scalding, drowning, suffocating or otherwise causing physical harm to a child. Physical harm may also be caused when a parent or carer fabricates the symptoms of, or deliberately induces, illness in a child.

8.3 Emotional abuse

The persistent emotional maltreatment of a child such as to cause severe and adverse effects on the child's emotional development. It may involve conveying to a child that they are worthless or unloved, inadequate, or valued only insofar as they meet the needs of another person. It may include not giving the child opportunities to express their views, deliberately silencing them or 'making fun' of what they say or how they communicate. It may feature age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on children. These may include interactions that are beyond a child's developmental capability as well as over-protection and limitation of exploration and learning, or preventing the child participating in normal social interaction. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve serious bullying (including cyberbullying), causing children frequently to feel frightened or in danger, or the exploitation or corruption of children. Some level of emotional abuse is involved in all types of maltreatment of a child, although it may occur alone.

8.4 Sexual abuse

Involves forcing or enticing a child or young person to take part in sexual activities whether or not the child is aware of what is happening. The activities may involve both physical contact and non-contact activities.

8.5 Neglect

The persistent failure to meet a child's basic physical and/or psychological needs, likely to result in the serious impairment of the child's health or development. Neglect may involve failing to: provide adequate food, clothing and shelter (including exclusion from home or abandonment); protect a child from physical and emotional harm or danger; ensure adequate supervision (including the use of inadequate care-givers); or ensure access to appropriate medical care or treatment. It may also include neglect of, or unresponsiveness to, a child's basic emotional needs.

8.6 Signs of Abuse

Unexplained injuries; fabricated or induced illness; improbable explanations; fear of returning home or parents being contacted; aggression/bullying; running away; significant change in behaviour without explanation; deterioration in work or attitude; unexplained pattern of absence; self-harm; compulsive stealing; 'don't care' attitude; social isolation; eating disorders; depression/withdrawal; low self-esteem; poor social skills.

8.7 Bullying

While bullying between children is not a separate category of abuse and neglect, it is a very serious issue that can cause considerable anxiety and distress. All incidences of bullying should be reported and will be managed according to the School guidelines.

9. PROCEDURE

Anyone who is suspecting or hearing a complaint of abuse:

- must listen carefully to the child and keep an open mind. Staff should not take a decision as to whether or not the abuse has taken place;
- must not ask leading questions, that is, a question which suggests its own answer;
- must reassure the child but not give a guarantee of absolute confidentiality. The member of staff should explain that they need to pass the information to the designated Safeguarding Lead who will ensure that the correct action is taken;
- must keep a sufficient written record of the conversation and preserve any evidence (for example scribbled notes, text messages, etc.). The record should include the date, time and place of the conversation and the 'who, what, when' of the allegation. The record should be signed by the person

Child Protection Policy

making it and should use names, not initials. The record must be kept securely and handed to the designated Safeguarding Lead. The designated Safeguarding Lead is responsible for holding the central list of all records.

The member of staff making the initial referral should expect to be informed that action has been taken by the designated Safeguarding Lead. If no communication from the designated Safeguarding Lead is made within 24 hours after the referral the member of staff should make further contact with the Designated Safeguarding Lead.

Reporting

All suspicion or complaints of abuse must be reported to the designated Safeguarding Lead, who is obliged to inform the Director accordingly.

Action by the Designated Safeguarding Person

The action, which will be taken as soon as possible, will take into account:

- the nature and seriousness of the suspicion or complaint. A complaint involving a serious criminal offense will always be referred to the relevant local safeguarding authority or to the police without investigation within the school;
- the wishes of the child who has complained, provided that the child is of sufficient understanding and maturity and properly informed. However, there may be times when the situation is so serious that decisions may need to be taken, after all appropriate consultation, that override a child's wishes;
- the wishes of the complainant's parents, provided they have no interest which is in conflict with the child's best interests and that they are properly informed. Again, it may be necessary, after all appropriate consultation, to override parental wishes in some circumstances. If the designated Safeguarding Person is concerned that disclosing information to parents would put a child at risk, he or she will take further advice from the designated Safeguarding Team, before making a decision to disclose;
- duties of confidentiality, so far as applicable; Given the sensitivity of the subject it is important that all faculty/staff communicate these matters only with the designated Safeguarding Person and will avoid discussing the situation with colleagues or others;
- the lawful rights and interests of the school community as a whole including its staff;

If there is room for doubt as to whether a referral should be made, the designated Safeguarding Person may consult with other appropriate professionals on a no names basis without identifying the family. However, as soon as sufficient concern exists that a child may be at risk of significant harm, a referral will be made without delay. If the initial referral is made by telephone, the designated Safeguarding Person will confirm the referral in writing to the Director within 24 hours.

Referral guidelines

A referral to the external authority or police would be made by the designated Safeguarding Lead after careful consideration of all related circumstances.

However, if during the course of the internal procedures, it appears that the situation is more serious, the designated Safeguarding Lead will again consider whether a referral should be made bearing in mind sensitivity to any cultural considerations that might impact the handling of cases of abuse.

Allegations against Staff

The school has procedures for dealing with allegations against staff that aim to strike a balance between the need to protect children from abuse and the need to protect staff from false or unfounded allegations.

The school will not undertake its own investigation of an allegation against a member of staff without prior consultation of the designated Safeguarding Lead.

Child Protection Policy

Document ID: Ru-20160206-PD

Suspension will not be an automatic response to an allegation. Full consideration will be given to all the options, subject to the need to ensure:

- the safety and welfare of the pupil/s concerned; and
- the need for a full and fair investigation.

All allegations against members of staff should go straight to the Director. Where an allegation or complaint is made against the Director, the designated Safeguarding Lead will report to and consult with the ISP's Board Chair, Gabriel Eichler (email: eichler.g@gmail.com).

Guidance is given to staff to ensure that their behaviour and actions do not place children or themselves at risk of harm or of allegations of harm to a child. This guidance is contained in the Faculty Handbook.

If an allegation is shown to be deliberately invented or malicious, the Director will consider whether any disciplinary action is appropriate against the child who made it; or whether the police should be asked to consider if action might be appropriate against the person responsible if he/she was not a child.

Allegations against Children

A child against whom an allegation of abuse has been made may be suspended from the school during the investigation (partly or wholly to protect them and to ensure fair process) and the school's policy on behaviour, discipline and sanctions will apply. Where the allegation refers to the abuse of a child by another child, or a group of children, the procedure will remain the same. Depending on the specific nature of the allegation this policy will be read and acted upon in conjunction with our anti-bullying policy.

The role of the parents

Everyone who comes into contact with children and their families has a role to play in safeguarding children. If a parent has any suspicions that their child, or any other child at the school, is being abused, in the first instance, must contact the designated Safeguarding Lead.

10. SAFE RECRUITMENT

ISP endeavours to ensure that we do our utmost to employ safe staff.

Safer recruitment means that all applicants will:

- provide thorough CV & job application,
- provide referees, including one or more who can comment on the applicant's suitability to work with children where applicable, as a general principle the school will always speak to the referees personally,
- provide evidence of identity and qualifications
- be checked through the Criminal Register as appropriate to their role,
- be interviewed.

As part of our standard recruitment practice we do perform:

- candidate interview including questions checking on candidate's motivation, background, attitudes & behaviours,
- credential verifications (verification of personal and professional histories and documentation),
- professional & confidential personal reference checks for shortlisted final candidates,
- police checks (Criminal record checks not more than 6 months old from the country of teacher's most recent residence as well as the country of their teacher training,
- internet checks (candidate's name and reputation).

All members of staff will undergo training that includes familiarisation with the school's Child Protection Policy and identification of their own safeguarding and child protection training needs. All staff sign to confirm they have received, read a copy of the Child Protection Policy and will abide by its guidelines (see: Appendix 1).

11. CONFIDENTIALITY

Staff may have access to confidential information about children in order to undertake their responsibilities. In some circumstances they may have access to or be given highly sensitive or private information. These details must be kept confidential at all times and only shared when it is in interest of the child to do so. Such information must not be used to intimidate, humiliate, or embarrass the child concerned. The well-being and safety of the child is of paramount importance.

If an adult who works with children is in any doubt about whether to share information or keep it confidential he or she should seek guidance from the designated Safeguarding Lead. Any actions should be in line with locally agreed information sharing protocols.

Whilst adults need to be aware of the need to listen to and support children, they must also understand the importance of not promising to keep secrets. Neither should they request this of a child under any circumstances.

Additionally, concerns and allegations about adults should be treated as confidential and passed to the Director without delay.

12. DISCLAIMER

This policy may be modified or terminated at any time by the school. Any modifications shall be in writing and take effect upon proper notice. The Leadership Team of the school will undertake an annual review of the policy and will ensure that any deficiencies or weaknesses in regards to child protection arrangements are put right without delay.
